To My Patients:

My goal is to provide the optimal result with your surgery. However, occasionally operative revisions may be required for any number of reasons. As you know, plastic surgery is both an art and a science. There are many variables that affect an individual patient's outcome, and if the ideal result is not obtained a revision may be necessary. In this instance, the surgeon's fee will be negotiable; however, you will be accountable for the fees related to the operating room, anesthesia and hospitalization.

I like to inform my patients in advance so that we may discuss this during your consultation and evaluation. I value your loyalty and will do everything to maximize your results and exceed your expectations.

Warmest Regards,

Jeff T. Healy, M.D.

I have read the above and understand and agree to this policy regarding revisional surgery.
